Do You Know The History of Valentine's Day

There are varying opinions as to the origin of Valentine's Day. Some experts state that it originated from St. Valentine, a Roman who was martyred for refusing to give up Christianity. He died on February 14, 269 A.D., the same day that had been devoted to love lotteries. Legend also says that St. Valentine left a farewell note for the jailer's daughter, who had become his friend, and signed it "From Your Valentine". Other aspects of the story say that Saint Valentine served as a priest at the temple during the reign of Emperor Claudius. Claudius then had Valentine jailed for defying him. In 496 A.D. Pope Gelasius set aside February 14 to honor St. Valentine. Gradually, February 14 became the date for exchanging love messages and St. Valentine became the patron saint of lovers. The date was marked by sending poems and simple gifts such as flowers. There was often a social gathering or a ball. In the United States, Miss Esther Howland is given credit for sending the first valentine cards. Commercial valentines were introduced in the 1800's and now the date is very commercialized.

Save Your Leftover Wine

Here's an easy way to add pizzazz to soups, stews, and sauces. The next time you have leftover wine, pour it into an ice cube tray and freeze it. Once the cubes are frozen, transfer them to a freezer bag until you need them. Then simply add a cube or two as you cook for a savory flavor boost.

VALENTINE'S DAY AROUND THE WORLD

America and Canada are not the only countries that enjoy Valentine's Day. Here are how other countries celebrate the day:

Denmark - Danes exchange white flowers called snowdrops and send humorous notes in which the sender signs his or her name in dots (one dot for each letter). If the recipient guesses the correct name, the sender will give him or her a candy egg at Easter.

Italy - On this day, many couples either become engaged or announce their engagements.

Mexico - On "Dia del Amor y la Amistad" (Love and Friendship Day), Mexicans randomly assign secret friends to receive anonymous gifts (similar to the Christmas tradition of Secret Santa).

Japan and Korea - Women give chocolate to men they like. On March 14th, it's the men's turn to reciprocate to those who gave to them with white chocolate or marshmallows, and this is deemed "White Day." (For those who received nothing on either day, there's Black Day the following month, and those unlucky souls gather to eat noodles with black bean sauce.)

The World's Tallest Snowman

According to the Guinness Book of World Records, the world's tallest snowman was built on February 19, 1999, in Bethel, Maine. It stood 113 feet, 7 inches and was made out of 200,000 cubic feet of snow. Its carrot nose was constructed out of six feet of chicken wire; it had pine wreaths for eyes; six tires for a mouth; three tires as buttons; two 10-foot pine trees for arms; as well as a 20-foot fleece hat and a 120-foot knit scarf. It took the town of Bethel 15 days to construct the snowman, which they named Angus, King of the Mountain, after Angus King, then governor of Maine. The town also held a raffle to guess the date when the snowman would be completely melted; 22 winners split the prize with a correct answer of June 10, 1999.
