The Lowdown on Energy Bars

Energy bars may seem like a healthy alternative to candy bars, but many nutritional experts say that some brands – particularly the ones with chocolate – are high calorie. Compare calories and opt for a lower calorie bar with less than two grams of saturated fat and at least three grams of fiber.

Memorial Day

Each year on Memorial Day, the strains of "Taps," a haunting melody first heard in 1862, echo throughout the nation. According to officials at Arlington National Cemetery, "Taps" was composed by Civil War Brigadier General Daniel Butterfield of the Army of the Potomac, who disliked the "extinguish lights" tune used at the time. He summoned his bugler, Private Oliver Wilcox Norton, and whistled a new tune. After some work by both men, it was used for the first time that night. Buglers from nearby brigades copied the melody, and eventually it became the new lights-out call for the entire Army of the Potomac. In 1863 it was adopted by all of the Union Army and is now used by the Army, the National Guard, and veterans organizations to signal the end of day and, at military funerals, to say goodbye to a fallen comrade.

Start the Summer Right with Grilling Safety Tips

For many of us, Memorial Day weekend is prime time to grill burgers in the back yard (or shrimp at the shore, or bratwurst on the balcony, or whatever). Don't let your enjoyment turn into a trip to the emergency room. Safe grilling calls for preparation. Take some simple precautions:

- Choose the right location. Position your grill a safe distance away from home siding and deck railings, and out from under eaves or tree branches. Establish a three-foot safety zone to protect pets and children from burns.
- Be prepared for emergencies. Keep a spray bottle or a fire extinguisher within reach to prevent a flare-up from spreading. Clean out the bottom of your grill thoroughly after each use to get rid of grease that can build up quickly.
- Handle food carefully. You can reduce cooking time by preheating your food in the microwave, but be sure to start grilling it immediately. Keep a thermometer handy to check food temperatures (165° F is a good internal temperature for most meats, but check your cookbook to be certain). Don't place food on the same plate you used to carry it out to the grill— unless you wash it thoroughly with hot, soapy water—as it might otherwise retain dangerous bacteria. Use a clean platter to serve the finished meal.
